Institutional guidelines for student's grievance redressal

The institution has a Grievance Redressal Committee that operates in accordance with UGC guidelines and is periodically updated and improved. Students can complain about issues with the library, health services, academics, and other services by coming to the cell. Students are able to report any kind of unhappiness or dissatisfaction to the cell. The Grievance Committee investigates complaints of harassment as well. Anybody can speak with the Convenor or the personnel overseeing the issue committee if they have a legitimate issue. The Grievance Committee Convenor may also receive grievances via email. The committee then swiftly and wisely resolves the complaints. This system has produced a nice working environment, a good work culture, and a sense of mutual understanding and goodwill among the students at the institute.

Anti-Ragging Cell

Introduction to Anti-Ragging Cell (ARC)

Objectives of ARC

- Ragging is a humiliating social crime.
- The foremost objectives of ARC are
- To prevent and protect the student community from being ragged or indulging in the act of ragging
- To bring awareness among the students about the ill effects of ragging, its impact on human life and consequences of involvement in the act of ragging
- To receive the complaints and resolve them through the ARC
- To initiate legal actions when required considering the intensity of ragging instances.

Duties of Ragging Grievant

1. A written complaint detailing the ragging incident in detail, including the date, time, and location of occurrence, must be sent to the Anti-Ragging Cell (ARC).
2. The complainant's and the accused's identities should be included in the complaint
3. The complaint must be made in person to any member of the Anti-Ragging Cell (ARC).
4. The Anti-Ragging Committee will protect the complainant's privacy and any other pertinent problems.

Actions

- To serve as a deterrence against similar instances happening again, the penalty meted out to those who engage in ragging must be commendable and appropriately severe.
- Depending on the specifics of each ragging occurrence, including its type and severity, the institution's Anti-Ragging Committee will decide whether to penalize or not.
- People found guilty of ragging at the institutional level may face one or more of the following penalties, depending on the specifics of the offense and its severity:(i) Revocation of admission; (ii) Prohibition from attending classes; (iii) Prohibition from participating in any examination, test, or other assessment procedure; (iv) Withholding of results

MINUTES OF MEETING

The meeting was held on 14.12.18 in the boardroom at 2.00pm. All members were present

1. The issue of long lecture hours has been raised by students, and some progress has been made. The college administration has started incorporating more breaks and interactive activities in the schedule to alleviate the issue. However, some students still feel the need for a more balanced timetable.
2. The problem of drinking water shortage during college hours has been partially addressed. New water dispensers have been installed in key areas, and the maintenance team is working on improving the water supply system. Yet, occasional shortages persist, and more robust solutions are needed.
3. Dr. Panigrahi is responsible for coordinating and overseeing the resolution of these grievances. He has shown commitment to addressing the issues but may need to engage more proactively with the students and faculty for ongoing feedback.
4. Ms. Mishra plays a crucial role in implementing changes to the lecture schedule and academic activities. She needs to continue collaborating with students and faculty to fine-tune the schedule further.
5. Ms. Naik is responsible for managing administrative aspects, including drinking water supply. She should focus on finding a sustainable solution to the water shortage problem and ensure regular maintenance of facilities.
6. Mr. Ankush role is vital in representing student concerns. He should keep advocating for students' needs, gather feedback, and communicate it effectively to the college administration to ensure that unresolved issues are addressed.

Actions Taken:

To address this issue, the college administration has begun to include more participatory activities and pauses in the timetable. They have also started talking with the teachers about reassessing and balancing the course arrangement. To improve the schedule and get continual input from the students, more work could be needed.

To address the issue of water scarcity, new water dispensers have been erected in strategic locations. To lessen sporadic shortages, the maintenance crew is continually trying to improve the water supply system. However, in order to fully address this issue, more durable and long-lasting solutions are required.

It is recommended that Dr. B.S. Panigrahi, Ms. Sanjana Mishra, Ms. Janhavi Naik, and Mr. Ankush Dubey persist in their endeavors to oversee and resolve these complaints. To make sure that the problems are fixed to everyone's satisfaction, it is critical that they keep the lines of communication open with the instructors and students.
